Elisabeth

Which is the Scandinavian spelling and not a mistake. The lady in question is reported to be 5'4" tall and 35-23-35 — who are we to disbelieve? However, as for what she's doing in that phone booth, your guess is as good as ours. The Assistant Editor suggested she was a member of the Telefone Libertarian Army — a ghastly gang responsible for obscene threats to Danish diplomats. The Art chaps thought perhaps it wasn't really a telephone booth — but a superloo — which she had mistaken for a launderette. The Editor swore blind it wasn't his round. Anyone else fancy trying an explanation? Best reply wins a year's subscription or two sweatshirts . . .

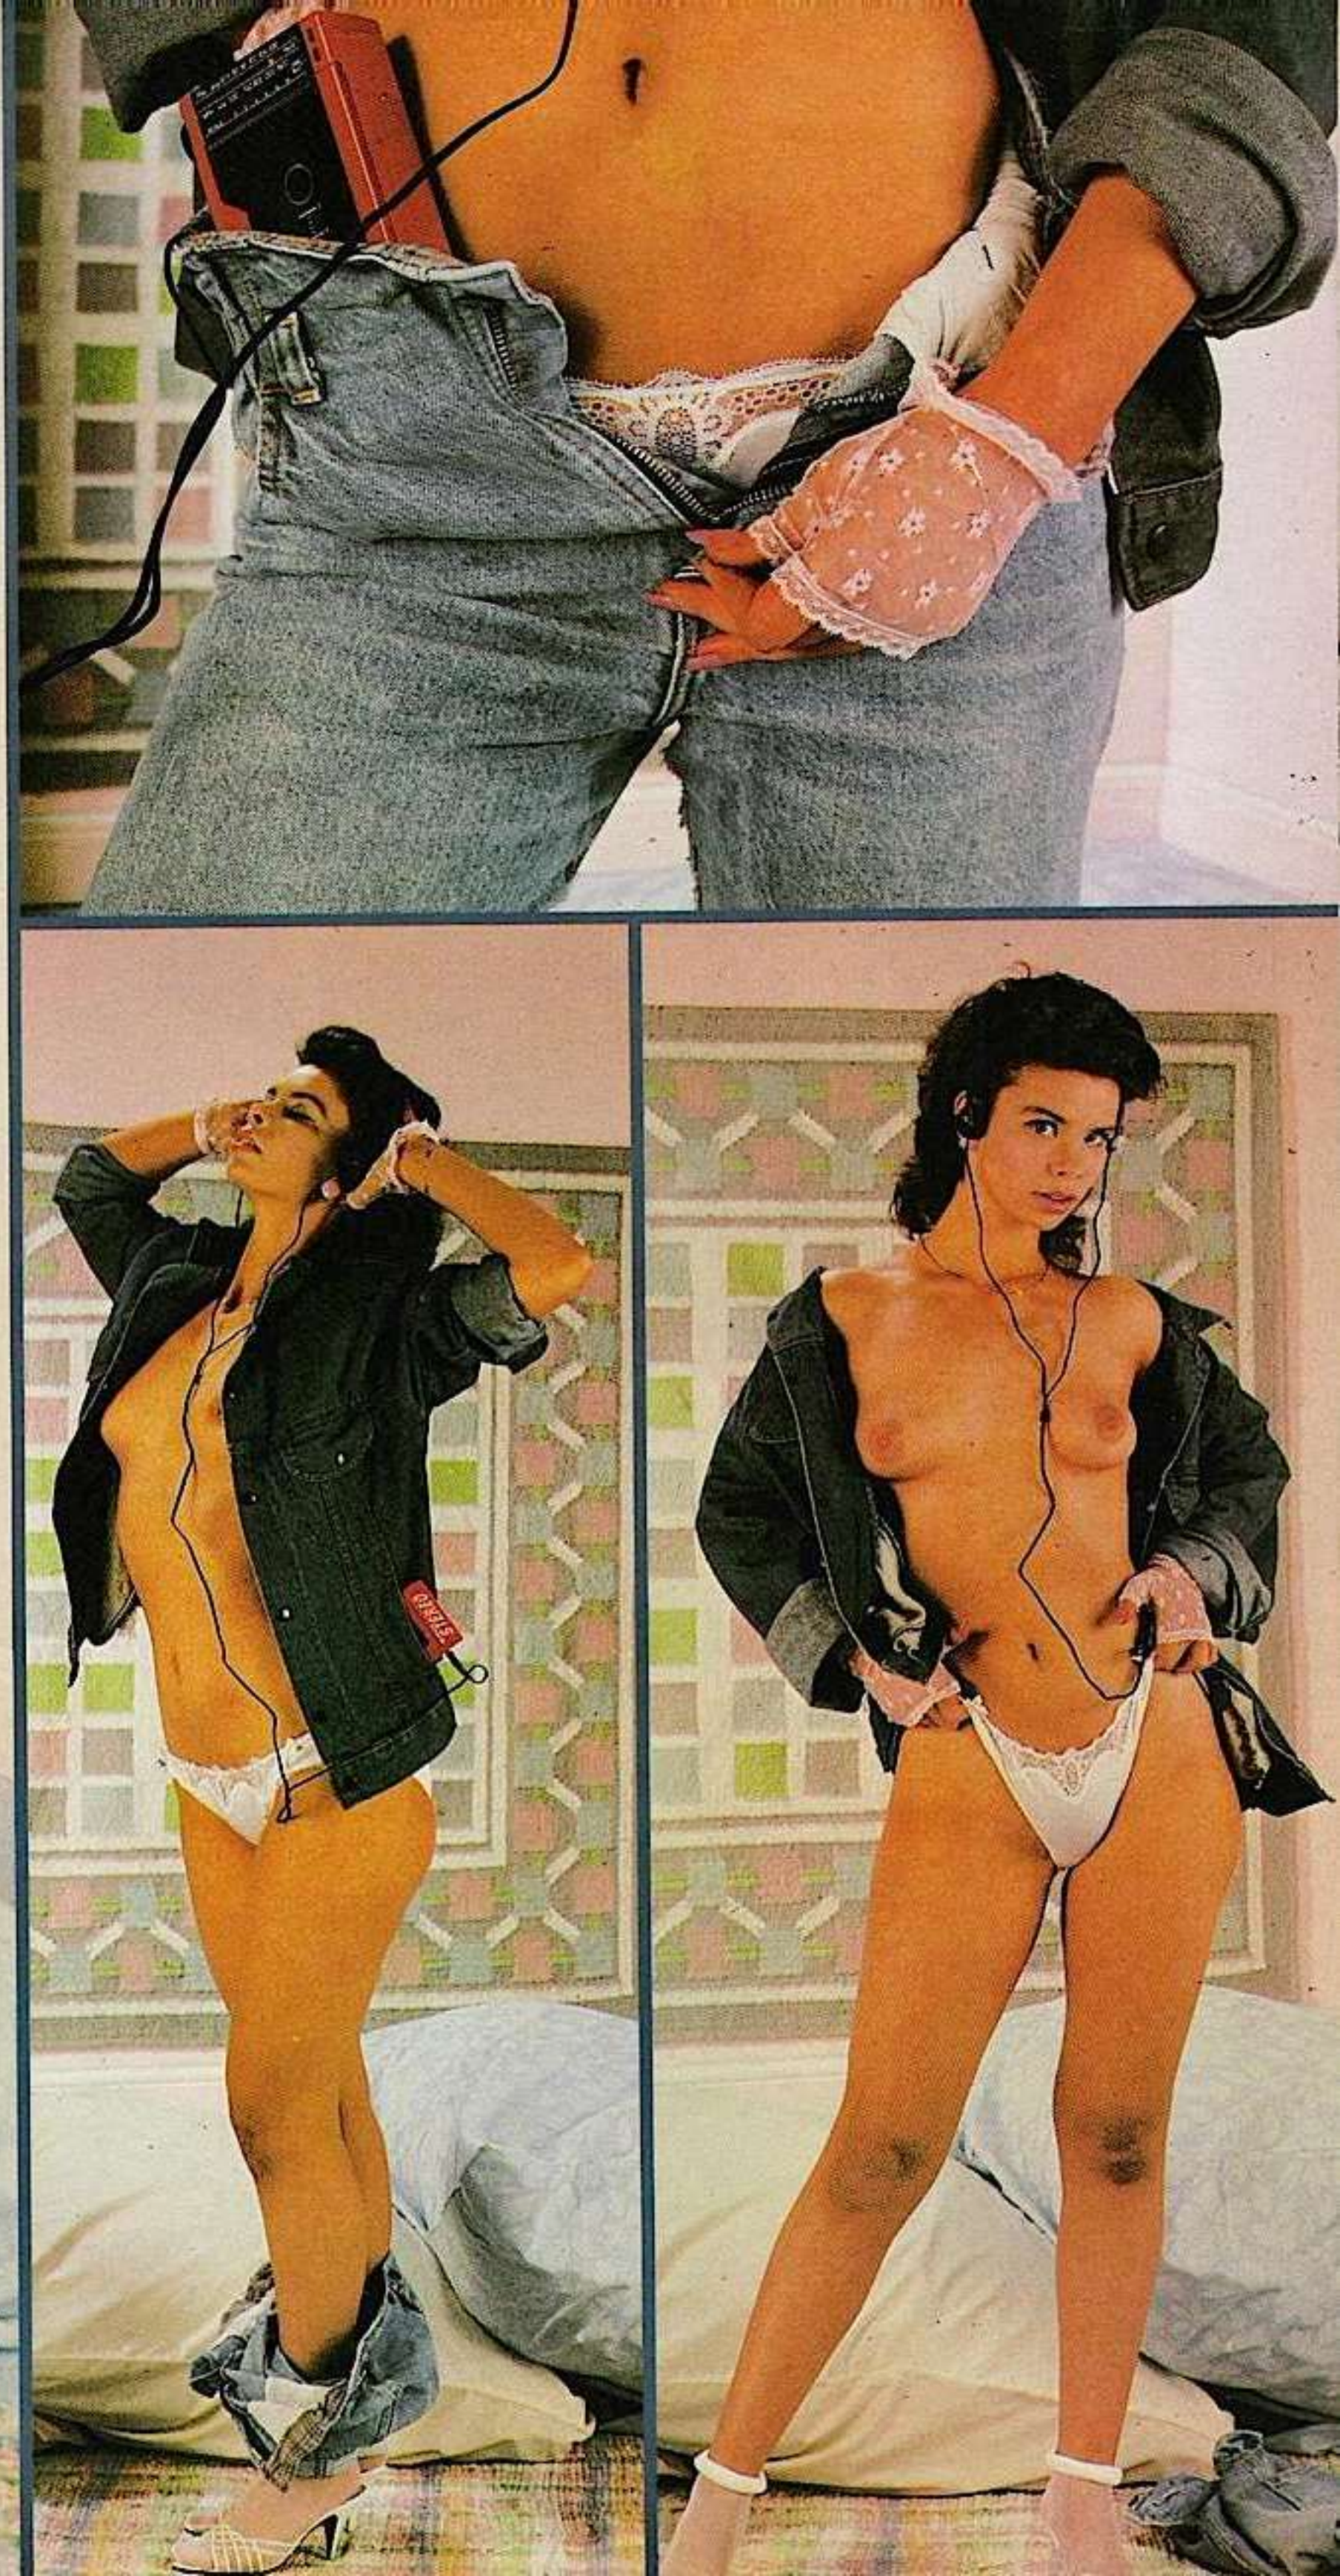
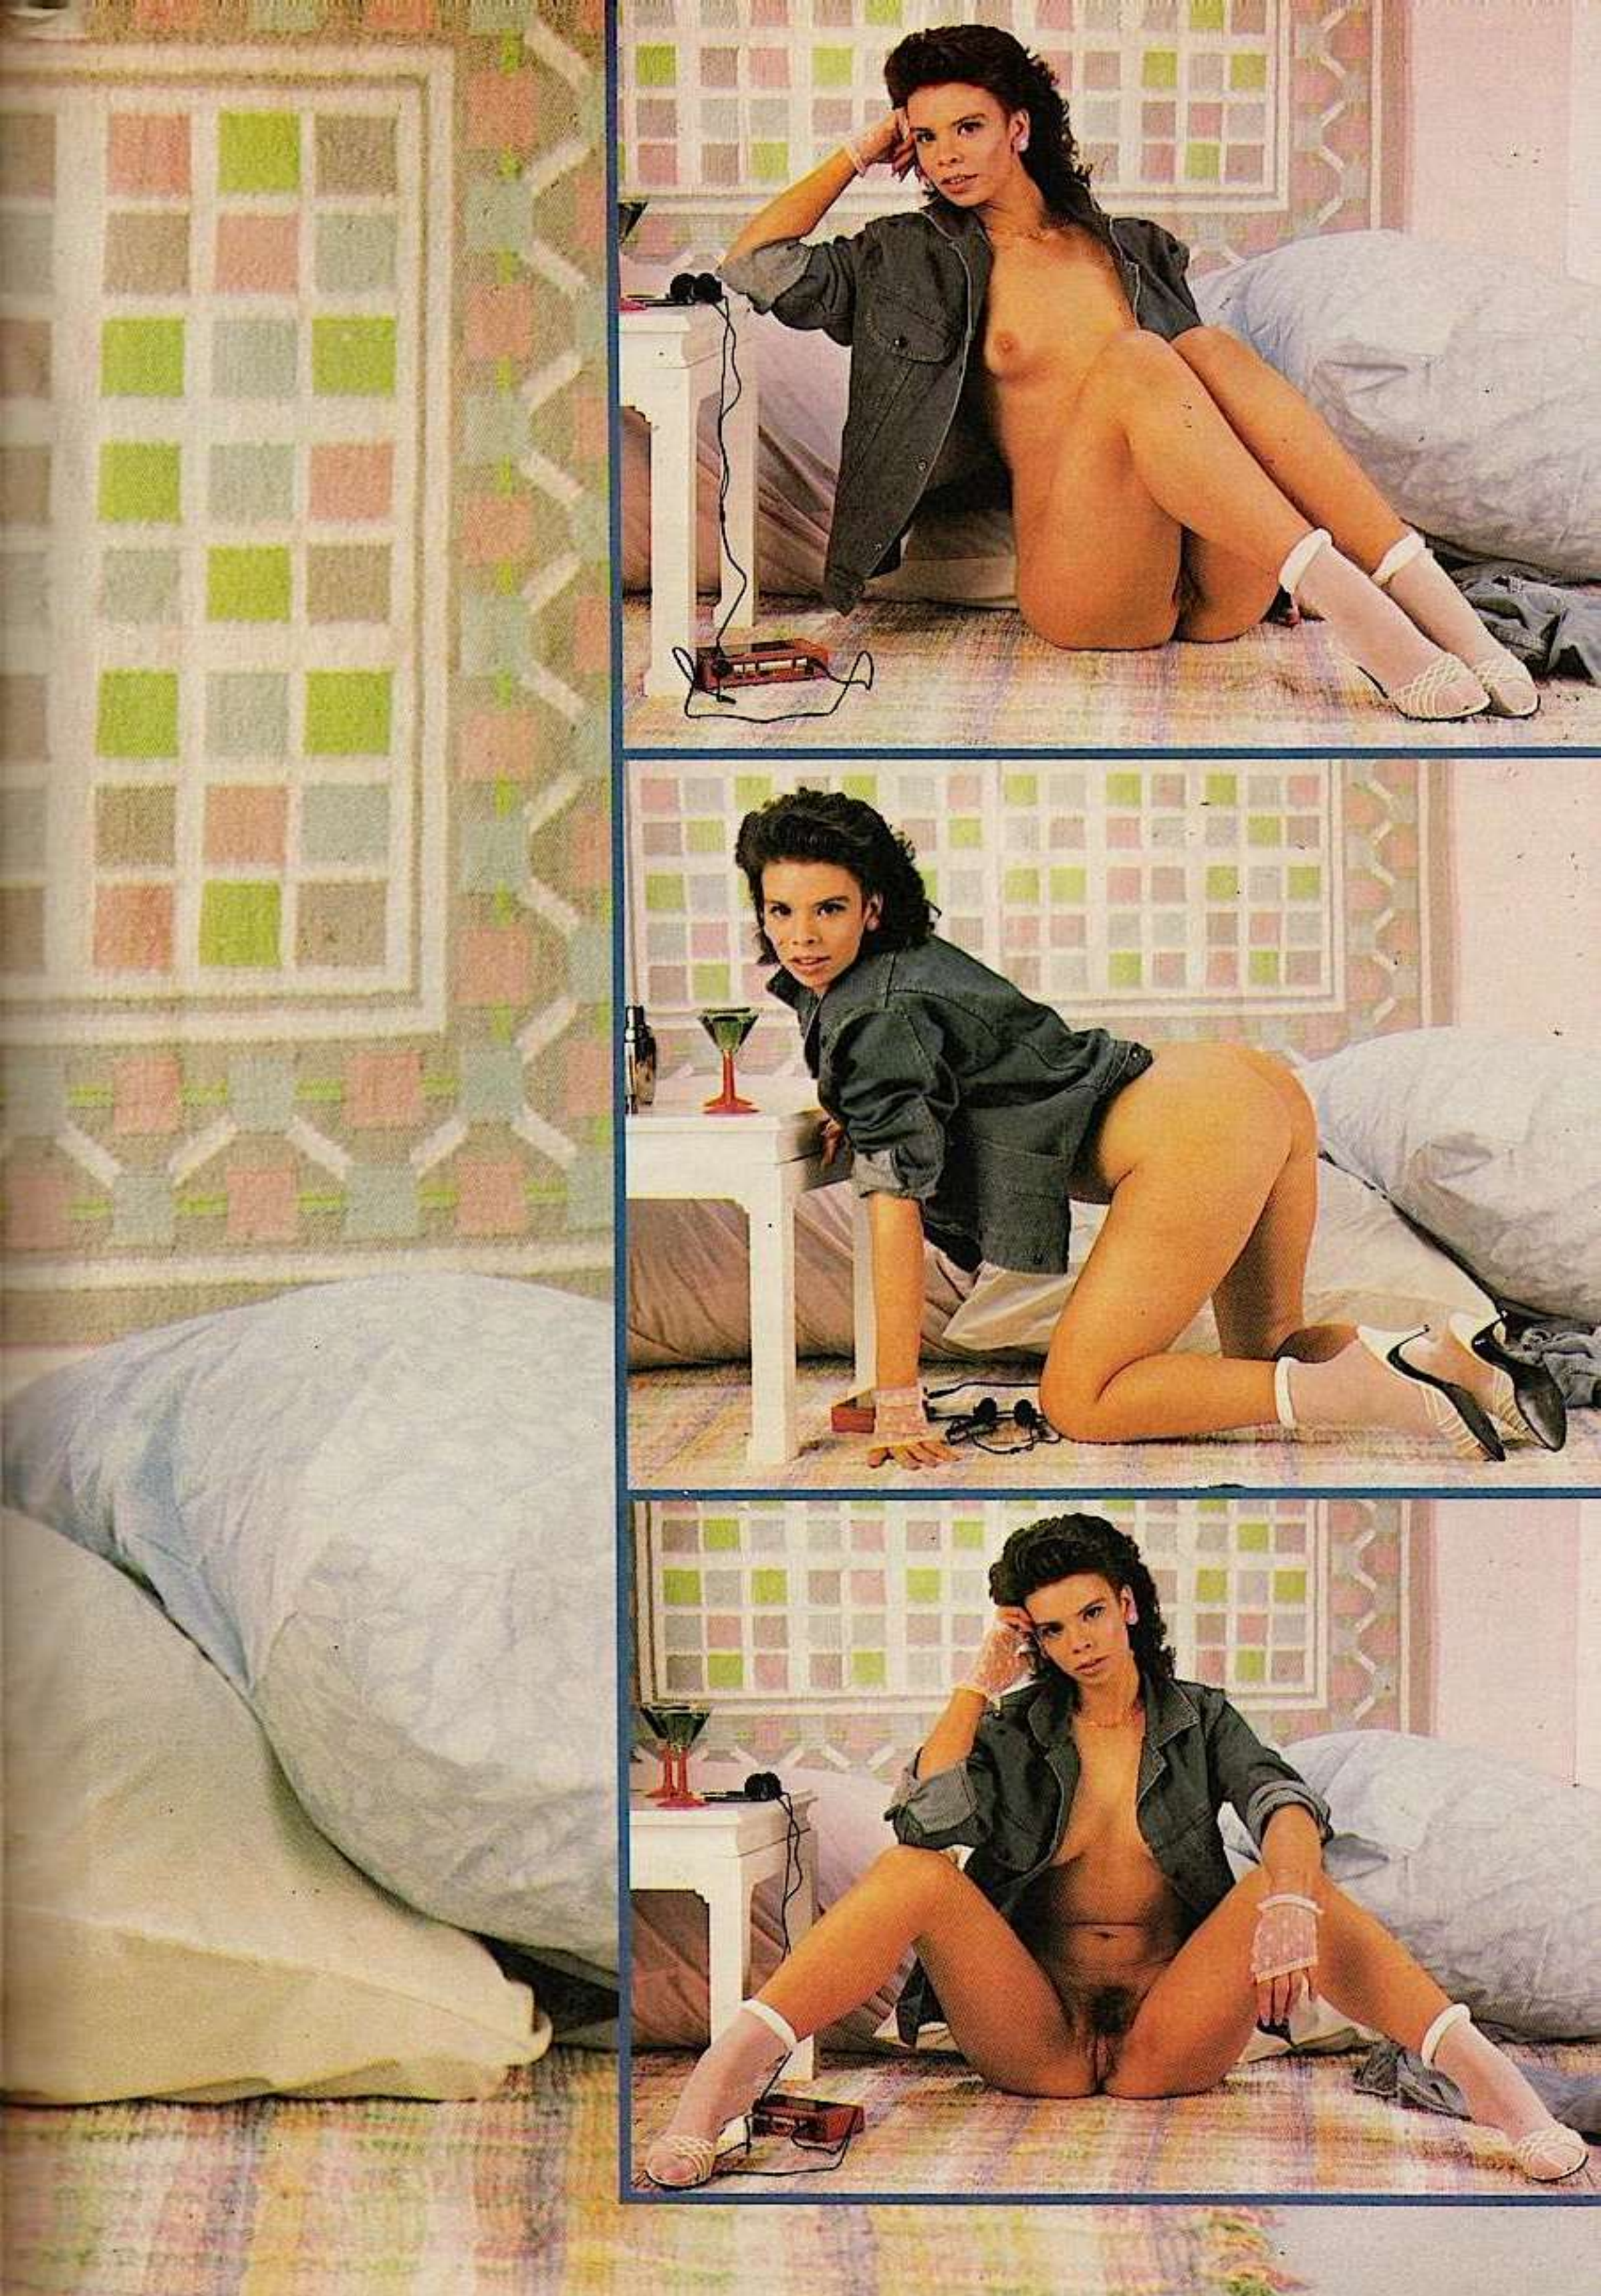
Genevieve Latouche

The funny thing is, Genny had just about given up on modelling. "I'd managed a couple of jobs for local photographers but I wasn't getting anywhere. Then a friend sent some pictures in to Knave . . ."



She's 5'7" tall, 36-24-37 and 19 years old. She comes from Blackpool and, yes . . . she does come from a French family. Only they aren't really called Latouche — okay?



These days she lives in Manchester where she's doing a fashion course at a local Art College, and she is determined to become a famous dress designer. She should wear her own creations well.

Julie

Way back in 16/7 Julie made her first appearance in Knave — her first appearance anywhere, come to that. This is the set we shot immediately afterwards and it is to be hoped that there will be more to follow. And to refresh your senile synapses: 19 years old, 36D-24-34 . . . and about 5′4″.

Our special Valentine, from all of us to all of you. A little late — but worth the wait. Polly was our delicious amateur back in 16/12. Now she returns as a professional: front cover, centre spread — the works. We doubt this will be her last job for us either. On the other hand, if she gets snapped up by a big-time agent, you may be restricted to seeing her [illegible] in calendars. So while you still can . . . enjoy, enjoy!

You'd better ● You see, the owner has just heard that Ted Moult is on his way round to replace the windows with . . . You're going to have to work hard on this one, Vanessa . . .
